TRAINING

DEVELOPING COMPETENCE REDUCING RISK

With over 20 years' experience in training, we have unrivalled experience and depth of knowledge. We deliver 116 courses from Joint Integrity, to Training at Height, Cranes and Lifting to Hydraulics. From our Aberdeen headquarters and six training centres around the world we serve large organisations in high-risk industries as well as self-employed individuals working within them.

At EnerMech, we have built our reputation on trust, integrity and honesty. We drive a culture that incorporates transparency, responsibility and the belief that we accept nothing but the best across our business. Competence development plays a big part in our culture and it is this insight that gives us a unique ability to provide first-class advice and guidance for our customers' own workforces.

The quality that we deliver is assured by internationally recognised accreditations including OPITO, ECITB, BFPA and IRATA (provided by EnerMech's specialist Inspection and Integrity team MInteg).

Whether you are looking for information on course content, guidance on the most appropriate course for your training needs, information on bespoke training or if you are ready to book your course, the team are on hand to help. We take huge pride in our customer service from beginning to end, and strive to create a positive, friendly and helpful experience.

Maintaining a continuous relationship with our customers is important to us. Understanding specific requirements helps us to guide you to the most appropriate training and competence solutions that we deliver.

We hope to welcome you to one of our training facilities very soon!
