

GUYANA SHOREBASE TRAINING

Forty

40 individuals certified and provided with 32 hours of both theoretical and practical training

Guyana Shorebase is a Guyanese company supporting the local offshore oil and gas industry. The largest shorebase in Guyana, they provide logistics services to ExxonMobil, SBM Offshore and other service companies. EnerMech provided critical Working at Heights and Aerial Lift Platform HSE Awareness Training demonstrating our commitment to their employee development and learning.

Client: GYSBI

Year: Q3 2020

Product/Service: Training

Project Delivery

The training was managed by our local team based in Guyana.

EnerMech demonstrated its commitment to its client employee's development and learning during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic.

EnerMech ensured that all guidelines were upheld following the health and safety standards set out for the employees.

Overall 40 individuals were certified and provided with a total of 32 hours of training both theoretical and practical sessions.

EnerMech Guyana Inc. demonstrated its flexibility to carry out these classes on the client facility without any issues.

After attending our training programme, the individuals would have left with an improved attitude towards safety and an increased proficiency in working at heights and Ariel lift equipment safety requirements.

The program was designed to equip individuals with the usable skills and practical knowledge critical to safe operations.

This was accomplished through the teaching of both theoretical information, combined with practical hands-on training.

Key Benefits

Tailor made training sessions to meet the timeframe and needs of the Client

EnerMech flexibility to development and learning during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic

Commitment to local content development improving attitude towards safety

Received commendation from client and individuals attending the sessions:

“Thank you EnerMech for the quality and effective communication provided to improving our employees safety awareness, you continue to show your value by having a diversified team in Guyana, Many Thanks!”

GYSBI Training Coordinator